

Stacia & Luc Robitaille

Stacia & Luc Robitaille personify an unequivocal commitment to service, excellence, gratitude & grace. Their Echoes of Hope Foundation has changed the lives of foster and at-risk youth in Los Angeles by alleviating societal barriers & providing resources that empower them to reach their full potential.

Luc, of course, is one of history's greatest athletes. In his unequalled 19-season career with the National Hockey League, he is remembered for such triumphs as being the highest-scoring left wing in history. Other honors include the 1987 Calder Trophy, the 1994 World Championship Gold, the 2002 Stanley Cup and a 2015 statue at LA's Crypto Arena, where his #20 Jersey was retired. During his 14 seasons with the LA Kings, he broke franchise records for goals, scoring 557. A Hockey Hall of Famer, he is the President of the LA Kings.

Stacia, is a born healer, teacher and writer whose actions are guided by truth and anchored in bringing light to a dark world. Shortly after Hurricane Katrina, Stacia flew to New Orleans and brought back and housed several families. Wanting to build on her commitment to bring positive change to the world, Stacia & Luc co-founded Echoes of Hope in 2007 which, to date, has helped more than 12,000 teens and at-risk young adults get the education, the leadership skills and the support they need to thrive.

Luc & Stacia's commitment to excellence; to raising up the most vulnerable young people perfectly echoes the philanthropic vision the Colleagues have passionately carried out for three-quarters of a century.
